WHAT & WHY

We've been having security problems with PayPal since spring. But even before then, many members complained about PayPal. It's no longer viable to use them for payments.

At the end of June we ditched them.

Since then, we've been relying on instructors to collect payments, and we're left without a way to process annual dues payments.

FunEvents365 is a startup that has been working on building a system to do almost exactly what we wanted, at an industrial scale.

They've reached a point where they can handle all of our requirements, so we're starting to transition to their system.

TRANSITION

Starting last week we began putting all our classes and workshops into Fe365. You can view the new design there if you like.

We'll be running with both the old and new systems until at least late October. Until then, it'll be your choice:

If you want something new and more functional, go and try our new registration system at Fe365.

But if you're worried about learning something new right away, or if something really does go wrong, you can fall back to the old system for now.

TAKING A LOOK

Clicking the link from the AGTV site will take you to this page.

It lists all the upcoming classes on offer.

The screenshot shows the 'Discover' website interface. At the top, there's a search bar with the text 'Search for events, activities, or interests...', a location selector 'Select a Location', a distance filter '25 Miles', and a 'Search' button. Below this is a 'Refine your results' section with options to 'Browse by category' and 'Advanced Filters'. There are three filter groups: 'When' with options 'Today', 'This Weekend', and 'This Week'; 'Price' with options 'Free' and 'Paid'; and 'Format' with options 'In Person' and 'Online'. The main section is titled 'Upcoming Events' with the subtitle 'Discover what's happening near you.' It displays four event cards. Each card has a price tag at the top, a heart icon, a title, a date and time, a location, and a 'Register' button at the bottom.

EVENT DETAILS

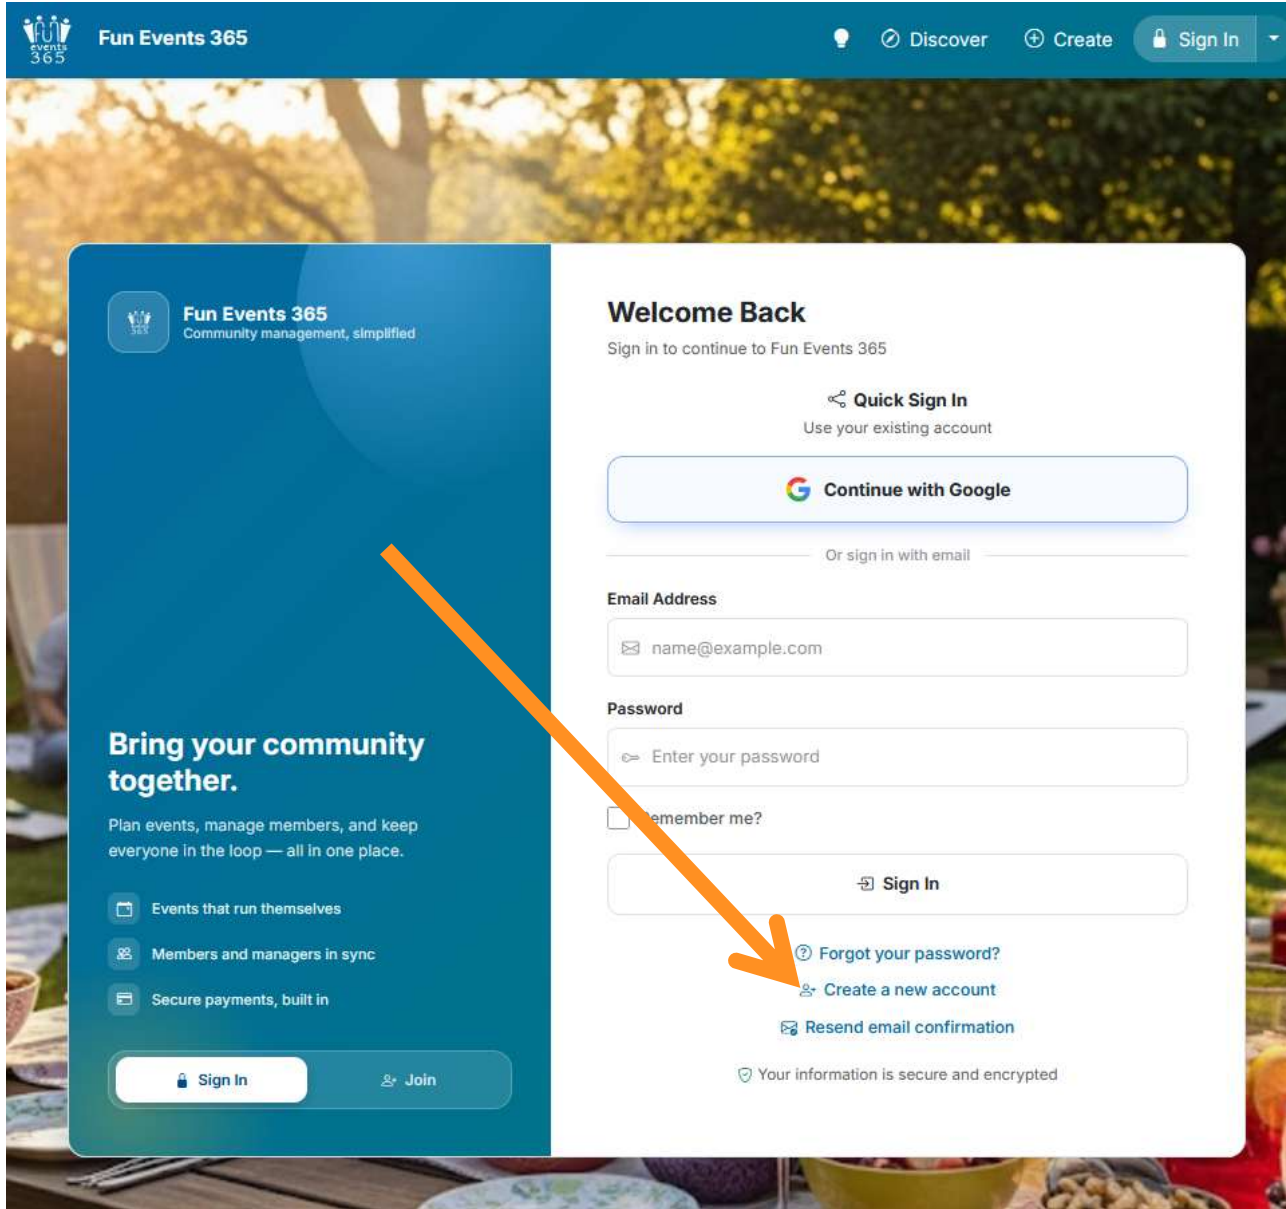

Hopefully this page is pretty self-explanatory.

Notice the most important parts:

- Friendly green button
- Price
- Capacity
- Scrolling down shows all the other stuff you're used to seeing on the AGTV site.

Click that button, and if you haven't already signed up on the site you'll have to do so...

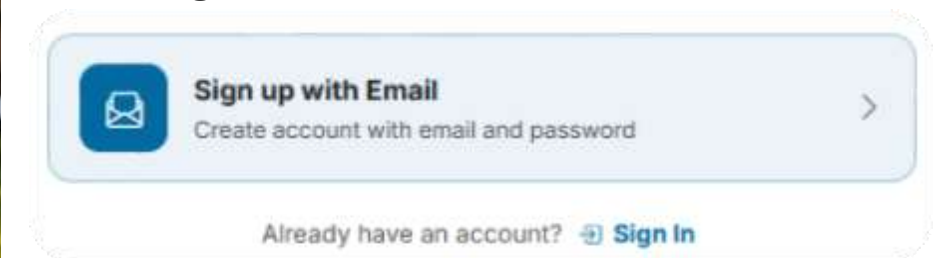

Before you can actually register for an event, you have to create your login to Fe365.

It'll shunt you to this screen.

Look for "Create a new account", and click on that.

The page will rearrange itself a little, showing this:

Click that "Sign up with Email" button, and you'll get a standard registration form.

PSA: please, everybody, use a password manager for safety and for your memory

TRY IT YOURSELF

We set up this sample event for you to try it out.

You don't need to worry about getting it wrong and missing your class. And it's free, so it won't even ask you for credit card details.

This is completely risk-free, so give it a shot so you'll feel comfortable.

A Facebook event card for AGTV. The top section features a colorful poster for the 'ART GUILD OF TELlico VILLAGE SAMPLE MEMBER SHOWCASE & WORKSHOP' with the text 'Experience Our Community. Register for this Sample Event!'. To the left of the poster is a green 'Free' badge, and to the right is a heart icon. Below the poster, the AGTV logo is displayed. The event title 'FREE Sample Event' is in bold. The date and time are 'Mon, Nov 30' and '1:00 PM - 2:00 PM'. The location is 'Chota Recreation Center, 145 awohili dr, Loudon, TN 37774, US'. At the bottom, it says 'Be the first to RSVP' and a large blue button with a calendar icon and the text 'Register'.

Step #3 ask the same stuff we used to collect in the old system:

- Phone#
- Email
- Are you a current member?

Answer these questions, and once again hit Continue.

For the record, they're not doing anything nefarious with your phone and email. That info is going to AGTV for our own purposes, and Fe365 ignores it.

GUEST LIST & DISCUSSIONS

After registering, you can Cancel if needed.
Note that cancellations still have to pay processing fees.
There's also a Guest List to see who else is going.

The screenshot shows a 'Discussion (1)' section. At the top is a text input field with the placeholder 'Share your thoughts about this event...' and a character count '0/2000'. To the right of the input is a blue 'Post Comment' button. Below the input is a comment from 'AGTV User' posted '16h ago'. The comment text is 'Lori, I'm glad to see that you were able to get into the system and registered!'. There is a 'Reply' link below the comment and a trash icon to the right.

The screenshot shows the 'Register for This Event' section. It includes a 'Registration required' checkbox, a note to 'Complete the short registration form when you RSVP for this event.', a green status message 'You're registered for this event.', and two buttons: 'Cancel Registration' and 'Edit Registration Answers'. Below this is the 'Guest List' section, which shows 'Going (2)' with two attendees: 'AGTV User' and 'Lori Demange'. Two orange arrows point to the 'Cancel Registration' button and the 'Going (2)' status.

Down at the bottom, we've now got a Discussion list. Ask your fellow attendees, "does anyone have some extra gesso they can bring for me?" (note there's no guarantee anybody's going to read them)

JOINING

This is going to be a little confusing; I apologize. Membership in AGTV is not the same as joining the community in Fe365. You should do both.

It's most important that you join AGTV!

You'll see an "event" called

Membership 2026-2027

Register for this event, and you'll be on our member rolls for the coming year.

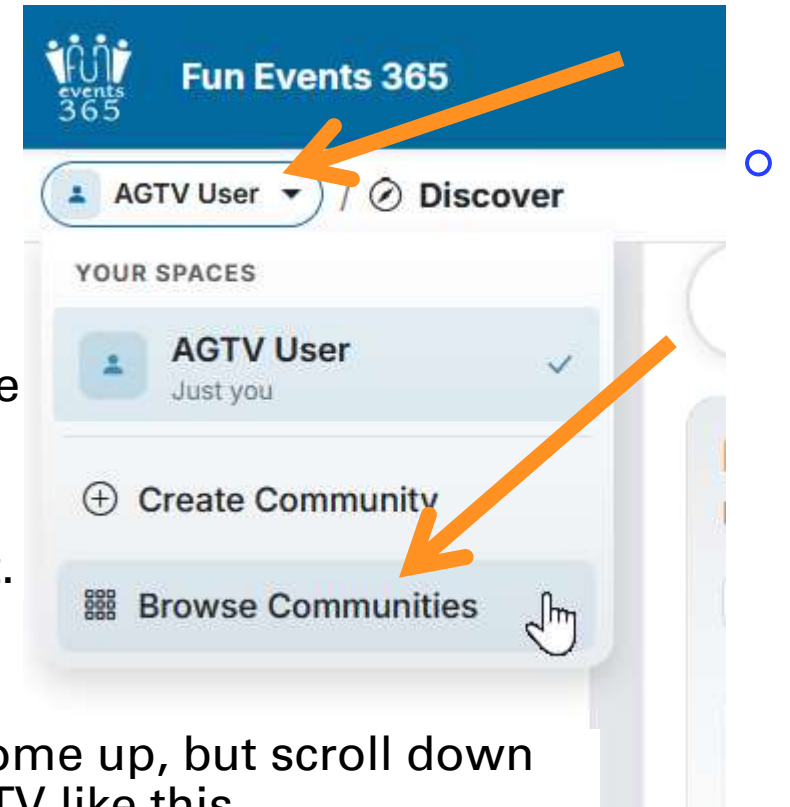

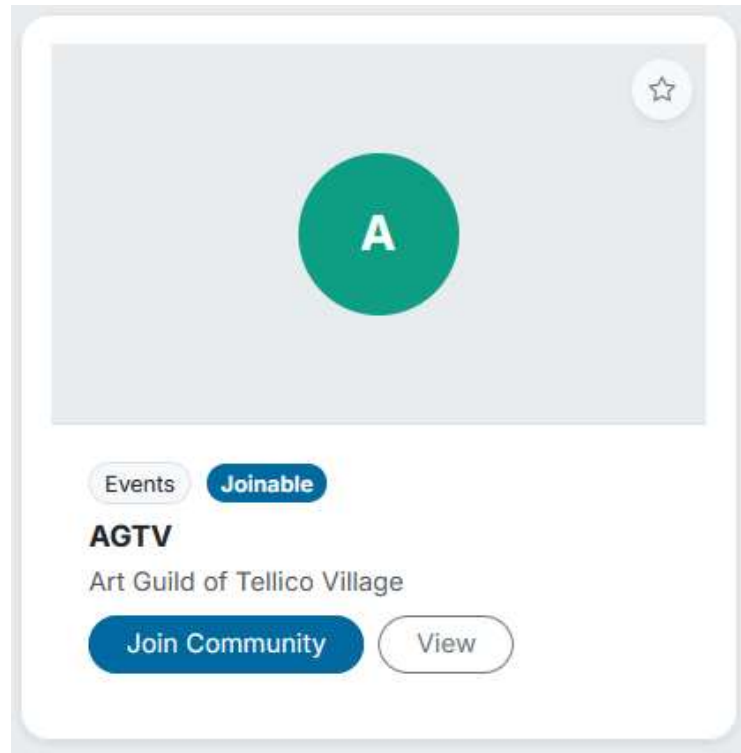

JOINING

But it's also worthwhile to join our Community in Fe365. Joining is easy.

Up at the top left, look for your name in the little pill shape. Click that.

A little menu will pop up, including an option for Browse Communities. Click that.

You'll see a Search tool come up, but scroll down below that. You'll see AGTV like this.

Click the blue Join Community button.

If you do that, you'll automatically get notified when new classes, etc., are created.

Advanced hint: click the  icon at the top right, and then Settings. Under Notifications you can set how frequently you'll get emails from the system.
